COS A001N: INTRODUCTION TO THE CUSTOMER SERVICE

Item

Curriculum Committee Approval

Date

Top Code

Units

Hours
Total Outside of Class Hours

Total Outside of Class Hot

Course Credit Status

Material Fee Basic Skills

Repeatable
Grading Policy

Value

12/02/2020

130110 - Consumer Services

0 Total Units

12 Total Hours (Lecture Hours 12)

0

Noncredit (N)

No

Not Basic Skills (N) Yes; Repeat Limit 99 P/NP/SP Non-Credit (D)

Course Description

This course provides an introduction to customer service including effective communication skills, building relationships, types of customer service, dealing with difficult customers, and soft skills. Students will learn and practice the necessary skills for success as a customer service provider. This course is appropriate for individuals seeking employment in the customer service field in any industry. Noncredit. NOT DEGREE APPLICABLE. Not Transferable.

Course Level Student Learning Outcome(s)

- Identify and demonstrate proper verbal and nonverbal communication skills for outstanding customer service.
- 2. Explain techniques and strategies to build relationships with
- Role-play appropriate techniques for dealing with an upset or difficult customer

Course Objectives

- 1. Define customer service, describe exceptional customer service and identify the benefits of exceptional customer service.
- 2. Define and describe verbal and nonverbal communication and how they impact customer service.
- 3. List methods to effectively communicate with customers and build relationships.
- 4. Describe and model appropriate customer service skills and attitudes used face-to-face, via phone, and via online/internet/email.
- 5. Demonstrate proper techniques when dealing with a difficult or upset customer.
- 6. Define and describe soft skills.

Lecture Content

Introduction to Customer Service What is customer service. Why is customer service Important. Who are your customers. Internal external customers What does customer service mean to you. Meeting customer needs Examples of exceptional and bad customer service Traits of outstanding customer service providers. Benefits of exceptional cutomer service. Key Vocabulary Effective Communication Skills Verbal Communication Word choice Tone of voice Clarity Inflection Energy

Volume Pace Nonverbal Communications Body language Eye contact Physical distance Greeting Customers Use of appropriate terms and titles Making a good first impression Determine customer needs Ask open ended questions Building Customer Relationships Ten tips to communicate effectively with customers Active listening techniques Asking clarifying quesitons Maintaining a positive and courteous attitude Establishing rapport and building relationships Making suggestions and reccomendations Referring a customer Types of Customer Service Face- to- Face Greeting the customer Dealing with requests Using body language Ending the interaction Working with mulitple customers at once Telephone Customer Service Telephone etiquette Professional greeting Active listening Taking a message Closing the call Advantages and disadvantages Email/Internet Email etiquette Writing profes sional emails Advantages and disadvantages Dealing with Difficult or Upset Customers What makes customers upset. Types of customers Accurately identifying problems De-escalating anger Establishing common ground and showing empathy Conflict resolution Problem solving Finding solutions Understanding when to escalate Managing your own emotions Reducing workplace stress Customer service role play Soft Skills Leadership Teamwork Problem Solving Time management Flexibility/ adaptability Attitude

Method(s) of Instruction

- Enhanced NC Lect (NC1)
- · Live Online Enhanced NC Lect (NC9)

Reading Assignments

Students will read current event articles and complete worksheets. 1-2 hours

Writing Assignments

Written assignments relating to retail terminology. 1-2 hours

Out-of-class Assignments

Written assignments providing opportunities for students to explore local retail venues. 1-2 hours

Demonstration of Critical Thinking

Matching Job Skills to a job listing.

Required Writing, Problem Solving, Skills DemonstrationOnline job search.

Eligible Disciplines

Family and consumer and studies/home economics: Masters degree in family and consumer studies, life management/home economics, or home economics education OR bachelors degree in any of the above AND masters degree in child development, early childhood education, human development, gerontology, fashion, clothing and textiles, housing/interior design, foods/nutrition, or dietetics and food administration OR the equivalent. Masters degree required. Fashion and related technologies (merchandising, design, production): Any bachelors degree and two years of professional experience, or any associate degree and six years of professional experience. Restaurant management: Any bachelors degree and two years of professional experience. Retailing (purchasing, merchandising, sales): Any bachelors degree and two years of professional experience, or any associate degree and six years of professional experience, or any associate degree and six years of professional experience, or any associate degree and six years of professional experience, or any associate degree and six years of professional experience.

Other Resources

1. No textbook required. Assigned readings and current event articles will be used