Course Description

Comprehensive examination of history of the United States from Reconstruction to the present time. Covers the political, economic, diplomatic, social and cultural aspects of American life. Transfer Credit: CSU; UC. C-ID: HIST 140. C-ID: HIST 140.

Course Level Student Learning Outcome(s)

1. Given a key economic, political, social, or cultural trend or event in the history of the United States since 1876, construct a well-organized argument, supported with relevant evidence, that evaluates the causes and/or implications of this trend or event.
2. Given primary and/or secondary sources relating to the history of the United States since 1876, analyze their meaning and usefulness as evidence.

Course Objectives

- 1. Demonstrate the ability to interpret primary and secondary sources relating to U.S. history since 1876 and to compose an argument which uses them, as appropriate, for support.
- 2. Utilize analytical categories of race, class, gender, and ethnicity to evaluate the development of the United States in the period since 1876.
- 3. Evaluate the growth of the United States in the period since 1876 in a global context.

- 4. Explain the major economic, technological, and scientific developments of this period in U.S. history and their historical significance.
- 5. Analyze major political trends, attitudes, conflicts, and events—including both mainstream and reform efforts—and explain their historical significance within the context of U.S. history since 1876.
- 6. Explain the major social and cultural developments in U.S. history since 1876, their causes and effects, and their historical significance.
