Course Description

Formerly: SOC C133. Sociological analysis of race, ethnicity, and racism. Examines the cultural, political, and economic practices and institutions that support or challenge racism and racial and ethnic inequalities as well as historical and contemporary patterns of interaction between various racial and ethnic groups. Enrollment Limitation: ETHS C233; students who complete SOC C233 may not enroll in or receive credit for ETHS C233. Transfer Credit: CSU; UC. C-ID: SOCI 150. C-ID: SOCI 150.

Course Level Student Learning Outcome(s)

1. Use sociological research concepts and theories to identify and analyze the social constructions of race and ethnicity, its interactions with different aspects of society, and its impact on the experiences of different racial/ethnic groups.

Course Objectives

- 1. Explain concepts related to minority groups.
- 2. Differentiate concepts such as prejudice, discrimination, segregation, assimilation, and pluralism.
- 3. Analyze the cultural and institutional factors involved in race and ethnic relations, relating the macro level to the micro level.

- 4. Compare and contrast the experiences of groups that have been historically marginalized, particularly groups defined by ethnicity and race.
- 5. Analyze intersections of race and ethnicity with gender, class, and other locations of identity.
- 6. Identify, compare, and contrast the experiences of major racial and ethnic groups.
- 7. Examine majority-minority group relations, including issues such as power and privilege.
- 8. Identify the cultural, political, historical, and institutional factors affecting the social construction of race and ethnic relations
- 9. Evaluate debates on current socio-political racial and ethnic issues such as affirmative action, immigration policies, criminal justice policies, and the future of race and ethnic relations.
- 10. Analyze and articulate core concepts of ethnic studies, including but not limited to race and ethnicity, racialization, equity, ethnocentrism, Eurocentrism, and white supremacy.
- 11. Apply theory to describe critical events in the histories, cultures, and intellectual traditions of communities of color with a particular emphasis on agency and self-affirmation.
- 12. Describe the intersection of race and ethnicity with other forms of difference affected by hierarchy and oppression, such as class, gender, sexuality, religion, spirituality, national origin, immigration status, ability, and/or age.
- 13. Describe how resistance, social justice, and liberation as experienced by communities of color are relevant to current issues (communal, national, and international).
- 14. Demonstrate active engagement with issues of race and ethnicity to build diverse, just, and equitable communities beyond the classroom.
