

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The Department of World Languages is committed to providing high-quality instruction in seven languages: Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Spanish, and Vietnamese in order to prepare students to function effectively in the global community, to transfer to institutions of higher education, and to promote opportunities for self-enrichment and success in employment.

The World Languages Department aims to awaken a global consciousness that opens the mind to more than one culture and way of life. To this end, we offer:

- Instruction with a communicative approach and personal interaction with students to support their efforts and ensure their success with language acquisition
- Multiple study abroad programs (including to France, Italy and Spain)
- Language clubs
- Transfer degrees in Spanish, French and World Languages
- Honors courses in many of the languages offered
